Plastics and Rubber Processing and Applications Papers Published in 1988

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 9

Number 1

Editorial 1

Relationships between injection moulding conditions, micromorphology and impact properties of polypropylene: 1. A typical commercial grade 3–16
M. W. MURPHY, K. THOMAS and M. J. BEVIS (Great Britain)

Stress–strain property reference points for non-linear materials 17–21
J. ROBERTS (Great Britain)

LCST and UCST behavior of polymer blends 23–27
H. W. KAMMER (German Democratic Republic)

Processability, mechanical properties and failure modes of XLPE/EPDM blends . 29–36
G. B. NANDO, S. THOMAS and B. B. PATRA (India)

Rheological behaviour of 1,2 polybutadiene–natural rubber blends 37–45
S. S. BHAGAWAN and S. K. DE (India)

A standard constitutive equation for rubber-like materials 47–52
GIANLUCA MEDRI (Italy)

The kinetics of absorption and desorption of liquid by a rubber annulus using a model and short-term tests 53–58
Y. KHATIR, J. BOUZON and J. M. VERGNAUD (France)

Short Communication

Stabilisation of EPDM at high temperatures by polymer-bound antioxidants: III. Evaluation of masterbatch concentrates 59–62
G. SCOTT and S. M. TAVAKOLI (Great Britain)

Forthcoming meetings 63–66

Number 2

PVC: Conference Papers

Effect of biaxial orientation on PVC structure and properties 67–72
M. GILBERT (Great Britain) and Z. LUI (People's Republic of China)

The high-speed mixing of PVC with plasticisers 73–79
R. C. STEPHENSON (Great Britain)

Factors determining the weld strength of window corners fabricated from impact modified UPVC profiles 81–89
B. HAWORTH, T. C. LAW, R. A. SYKES and R. C. STEPHENSON (Great Britain)

Hardness measurement as a technique for assessing gelation of rigid PVC compounds 91–97
J. A. COVAS (Portugal)

Structure/performance relationship of PVC pipe 99–106
H. F. SCHWENCKE (Belgium)

Twin screw extrusion of a rigid PVC compound—effect on fusion and properties . 107–116
J. A. COVAS (Portugal), M. GILBERT (Great Britain) and D. E. MARSHALL (USA)

Relationships between injection moulding conditions, micromorphology and impact properties of polypropylene: II. Addition of high and low molecular weight polypropylenes 117–127
M. W. MURPHY, K. THOMAS and M. J. BEVIS (Great Britain)

Book Review 129

Forthcoming meetings 130–132

Number 3

Plasma treatment of PTFE: Effects of processing parameters on bonding properties 133–140
L. MASCIA, G. E. CARR and P. KEMBER (Great Britain)
Effect of blending on the dispersion and flow behaviour of black-filled bromobutyl and EPDM rubber blends 141–146
P. MUKHOPADHYAY and C. K. DAS (India)
The fatigue performance of polyethylene pipe joints made with electrofusion fittings 147–153
J. BOWMAN (Great Britain)
Improved mechanical behaviour in ultra high modulus polyethylene by controlled crosslinking 155–161
D. W. WOODS, W. K. BUSFIELD and I. M. WARD (Great Britain)
Effects of molecular structure on the properties of ethylene–vinyl acetate copolymers 163–166
D. C. EAGLES and A. RUDIN (Canada)
Effect of processing parameters on the physical properties of Hytrel . . . 167–172
M. GAZTELUMENDI, I. MONDRAGON and J. NAZABAL (Spain)
Influence of physical ageing on creep in the α- and β-relaxation regions in PMMA. 173–179
G. D. DEAN, B. E. READ and G. D. SMALL (Great Britain)

Short Communications

Nylon 6 weld line strength compared to bulk in injection moulded samples . . 181–186
A. RALLIS, S. PICCAROLO and G. TITOMANLIO (Italy)
Some effects of recycling high impact polystyrene 187–190
F. A. JAMIL and S. D. A. SHUBBER (Iraq)
Book Reviews 191–193
Forthcoming meetings 194–196

Number 4

Rubbercon: Conference papers

A triboelastic model for the mechanical behaviour of rubber 197–201
D. M. TURNER (UK)
Examination of adhesive joints using electronic speckle pattern interferometry . 203–208
B. P. HOLOWNIA (UK)
Effect of metal oxides on the properties of carboxyl nitrile rubber vulcanisates . 209–214
PHILIP H. STARMER (USA)
Carboxylated polybutadienes as coupling agents for mineral filled elastomers . . 215–220
M. B. EVANS, R. N. ROTHON & T. A. RYAN (UK)
Investigation of interphase transfer catalysts as activators of sulphur vulcanisation of diene rubbers 221–225
A. G. PROYCHEVA, A. A. DONTSOV, E. Y. ANDRYAKOV,
T. V. ROMANOVA & A. G. FOMIN (USSR)
Comparison of mechanical and thermal properties of phosphonitrilic fluoroelastomer and fluorosilicone rubber 227–232
FOLKE BJÖRK & BENGT STENBERG (Sweden)
Microwave preheating of sheet moulding compound 233–240
P. J. COSTIGAN & A. W. BIRLEY (UK)
Glass reinforced polyamide injection moulded: fibre orientation effects on properties 241–250
ANGELO GENNARO (Italy)
Forthcoming meetings 251–253

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 10

Number 1

Lifetime predictions for uPVC pipes subjected to combined mean and oscillating pressures 1–9
R. W. TRUSS (Australia)

Knit-line structure in the injection molding of polystyrene 11–16
S. PICCAROLO & M. SAIU (Italy)
Computer simulation of the filling and curing stages in RIM: Sensitivity analysis on reaction kinetics 17–25
C. N. LEKAKOU & S. M. RICHARDSON (UK)
RRIM: studies of steady injection flows in mixhead orifices 27–33
P. D. COATES, A. I. SIVAKUMAR & A. F. JOHNSON (UK)
Evaluation of carbon fibre-reinforced PEEK composites manufactured by continuous local welding of prepreg tape 35–44
S. M. GROVE & D. SHORT (UK)
Ethylene propylene rubber–chlorosulphonated polyethylene rubber blends . . 45–51
S. BHAUMIK & N. K. DATTA (India)
Rheological behaviour of polyethylene-filled natural rubber compounds . . . 53–60
J. KURIAN, S. AKHTAR, P. P. DE & G. B. NANDO (India)
Forthcoming meetings 61–63

Number 2

The influence of shear-imposed interfacial diffusion on the chemorheology of model poly(urethanes) 65–72
B. J. BRISCOE, S. M. RICHARDSON & M. B. KHAN (UK)
The effects of injection rate and mould design on the mechanical properties of an injection moulded liquid crystalline copolyester 73–78
A. BOLDIZAR (Sweden)
Assessment of fibre orientation in composites using infra-red thermal imaging . 79–84
M. J. FOLKES & H. A. POTTS (UK)
The preparation and properties of die-drawn polyvinylchloride tubes . . . 85–91
A. SELWOOD, A. K. TARAIYA, I. M. WARD & R. A. CHIVERS (UK)
The drawing behaviour of polyethylene terephthalate tube 93–98
A. SELWOOD, I. M. WARD & G. CRAGGS (UK)
Influence of trans-polyoctenamer additive on the energy consumption during compounding and on the properties of rubber compounds 99–104
C. ORNAFA, M. STACHOWSKI & P. KUSZTAL (Poland)
Studies on blends of EPDM and bromobutyl rubber 105–115
TAPAN K. BHAUMIK, A. K. BHATTACHARYA, B. R. GUPTA & ANIL K. BHOWMICK (India)
The cobalt (II), nickel (II), copper (II) complexes of itaconic acid and acrylic acid and a study of their performance as colouring materials for polystyrene 117–120
J. R. ALLAN, J. G. BONNER, H. J. BOWLEY & D. L. GERRARD (UK)

Short Communication
A study of the performance of some first row transition metal complexes of 1,2-di-(2-pyridyl)-ethylene and 1,2-di-(4-pyridyl)-ethylene as colouring materials for polystyrene 121–124
J. R. ALLAN, B. R. CARSON, H. J. BOWLEY & D. L. GERRARD (UK)
Book Reviews 125
Forthcoming meetings 126–129

Number 3

Carbon fibre reinforced bismaleimide and polystyryl pyridine laminates . . . 131–136
N. L. HANCOX (UK)
Ageing of PC/PBT blends. I: Impact properties 137–144
H. BERTILSSON, B. FRANZÉN & J. KUBÁT (Sweden)
Ageing of PC/PBT blends. II: Phase separation effects 145–153
H. BERTILSSON, B. FRANZÉN & J. KUBÁT (Sweden)
Injection moulding experiments; a challenge to numerical simulation programmes . 155–163
A. A. M. FLAMAN, R. DE GROOT & B. VELTMAN (The Netherlands)

Blending of PP and LLDPE for film and tape 165–169
R. McILHAGGER & D. BAXTER (UK)
M-Draw: A novel technique for heat transfer to polymeric materials . . . 171–182
A. A. CRANGLE, K. J. LAVERTY & J. N. RUDDELL (UK)

Short Communication
Exposure of swimming pool covers to chlorine 183–185
J. L. A. FRANCEY & B. P. GIESNER (Australia)
Book Review 187
Forthcoming meetings 188–191

Number 4

Toughening mechanisms in new hybrid epoxy systems containing alumina fibre, zirconia and rubber 193–201
S. BANDYOPADHYAY, V. M. SILVA, I. M. LOW & Y. W. MAI (Australia)
Effects of ionizing radiation on epoxys, graphite fiber and their composites . . 203–209
J. S. PARK, K. S. SEO, R. E. FORNES & R. D. GILBERT (USA)
Reactions of some additives claimed to improve the green strength of IR . . 211–220
M. G. HUSON, D. A. JOOSTE & W. J. McGILL (Republic of South Africa)
Ionizing irradiation for sterilization and modification of high molecular weight polyethylenes 221–229
ROBERT M. STREICHER (Switzerland)
Effect of formulation and processing conditions on PVC fusion 231–238
O. P. OBANDE & M. GILBERT (UK)

Short Communications
Correlation of proposed material reference point stresses over ranges of temperature and strain rate 239–243
J. ROBERTS (UK)
The influence of temperature on the tensile properties of polypropylene . . . 245–248
RICHARD J. ROLANDO, DENNIS L. KRUEGER & HERBERT W. MORRIS (USA)
Book Reviews 249
Forthcoming meetings 250–252
